Continuation of 5. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: Applicant's argument is not persuasive. There is ambiguity with the amended term "level" that permits several interpretations - either as a noun or verb. Even though Applicant clarifies the confusion somewhat from the last response explaining that "level with" means on "the same plane," no where in the claims is this new language found. Therefore, Applicant's argument still does not change the fact that the ambiguity of the term "level with" in the claimed invention and are thus not helpful in distiguishing the claimed invention from the prior art of record.
